

Custom Mobile Solutions

Develop mobile apps customized for your business, with specific feature sets, user interfaces and workflows

Today's savvy organizations use mobile applications to do loads of great things:

- Boost productivity
- Speed up processes
- Reduce costs
- Generate new revenue streams
- Increase sales
- Power anytime anywhere workers

But for a mobile app to be worth your time, it needs to be the right fit for your business.

And sometimes, the right fit simply isn't available straight off the shelf.

How we can help

With Custom Mobile Solutions from Sprint you can give your teams the exact apps they need to be at their most productive and connected. We're talking feature sets, work flows and interfaces specifically tailored for your organization.

Sprint can help you bring your ideal mobile app into existence, delivering:

- Mobile user interface design and development
- Support of multiple operating systems
- Backend integration to legacy systems
- Deployment on both corporate and BYOD devices
- Security and management

What you'll get:

- Mobile UI (user interface) design and development
- OS (operating system) support
- Backend integration from mobile apps to legacy systems
